EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Customer and community executive with 20 years in developer and collaboration software, including 8 years in C-level and SVP roles at companies with both self-serve and enterprise motions. Built community into a growth engine twice: once as SVP at a Series D developer tools company and again as Chief Customer Officer at a public collaboration platform. Owns customer success, education, community, and customer marketing; partner to the CEO, CRO, CPO, and board.

SIGNATURE ACHIEVEMENTS

Raised net revenue retention from 109 to 128 percent at Cobaltline by connecting self-serve adoption to enterprise expansion through a 2,000 person champions network.

Built one of the best known ambassador programs in developer tools at Meridian Forge, cited in industry case studies, with 1,500 ambassadors in 40 countries.

Unified education, certification, and community into a single academy reaching 400,000 learners.

Led customer communications and community response through a major security incident with Comms and Legal; gross retention held at 94 percent that year.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Cobaltline (NYSE-listed collaboration platform, $620M ARR) | San Francisco, CA

Chief Customer Officer | 2021 to Present

Recruited by the CEO to turn a strong self-serve base into enterprise expansion. Report to the CEO; member of the executive team; present to the board quarterly. Lead 480 people across customer success, support, education, community, and customer marketing; $95M budget.

Community and adoption

Rebuilt community around three audiences (developers, knowledge workers, executive sponsors) with one global operating model and regional teams in EMEA and Japan.

Set community and product adoption metrics with the CPO and Data Science; community-engaged accounts expand 2.4x faster.

Enterprise expansion

Designed the champions and train-the-trainer motion now built into every strategic account plan; contributed $140M in expansion pipeline in FY2025.

Organization

Hired 6 VPs and built a distributed leadership team across 4 regions; employee engagement in the customer org rose 15 points.

Meridian Forge (developer tools, Series D, $90M to $260M ARR during tenure) | San Francisco, CA
